This comment is in reference to docket number L-00000B-15-0059-00170, the Price Road Corridor 230KV substation project. The preferred route by SRP to run the 230KV power line from the Schrader Road Substation south to the Gila River Indian Reservation and then up to R-27 and R-28 is flawed in that it cuts a path that is 2 1/2 times longer than necessary. If the goal is to connect the Schrader Road Substation to R-28, the most direct route would be to trace north along EXISTING 230KV towers to Germane Road and then west directly to the R-28 substation. The northern piece of the trace already has 230KV towers and would constitute one half of the overall project. The remaining half would trace along Germane Road where there exists 69KV towers, thus requiring an upgrade in tower height and capacity. This trace is much cheaper than the SRP preferred route due to its length and would impact many fewer residential areas.

These points were raised two years ago to no avail.
